

Meet Mrs. Williams!

I am Anna Blair Williams and I teach fourth grade! I was born and raised in Texarkana. I went to elementary school on the Arkansas side but moved over to the Texas side for high school. After graduating from Texas High, I moved to Memphis, Tennessee and attended Rhodes College where I got my Bachelor's Degree in Psychology with a Minor in Education. I greatly value my Psychology background as it taught me so much about how the brain works, how to optimize learning, and developmental stages. From there, I went to Vanderbilt University and received my Master's Degree in Elementary Education. Upon completing my Master's Degree, I moved to Little Rock where I substituted at Forest Park for a semester. I then taught pre-school for a year at Episcopal Collegiate School, but my heart called me back to the public school system. I happily returned to Forest Park the following year to teach first grade. I taught first grade for three years, and I am now teaching fourth grade! I am married to Mr. Williams, who teaches second grade, and we have a beautiful baby boy, Anderson. We love walking our Great Dane, Winnie, reading books, and spending time with family.
